Every insured person is a member of the company and shares in the profits of the business, and is subject to no liability or assessment beyond his premium.

Highly Important to Farmers.
THE ONLY EXCLUSIVE FARMERS' INSURANCE COMPANY IN THE WEST, LOCATED AT MADISON, WISCONSIN.

THIS Company continues to take risks upon Farm Property only, consisting of buildings of all kinds, live stock, &c., and household furniture, grain in barns, live stock, &c., from one to five years, at rates less than most other responsible companies. All losses promptly paid at the office as soon as proof is made.

We believe it to be for the interest of the farmers to insure by themselves, their property being less hazardous than any other, consequently they will have no losses only by fire, and of the same class, and all will be on an equal footing.

Experience has shown that two-thirds, if not three-fourths of all the fires that occur are upon stores, barns, and other property of the same class, and all will be on an equal footing.

The best of references given as to the responsibility of the company.

POLITICS IN NEW YORK.—Parties in New York are in a present state of confusion, whether there is any other "fusion" or not. Within a month past no less than nine state conventions have been held. The order in which they came were as follows:

Democratic hard shell convention,	July 12
Saratoga anti-Nebraska convention,	Aug. 16
Democratic soft shell convention,	Sept. 6
Syracuse whig convention,	Sept. 20
Free democratic convention,	Sept. 25
Anti-Nebraska Auburn convention,	Sept. 26
Independent Auburn convention,	Sept. 26
Seceders from anti-Nebraska convention,	Sept. 26
Temperance convention,	Sept. 27

With the proceedings of the two democratic and the whig conventions, our readers are familiar, and with the others they may be left they will spend half a day in reading the New York Tribune. The results only we shall attempt to give.

The free democratic of the 25th divided on the policy of nominating the Syracuse whig ticket, a majority deciding to do so, and the dissentients seceding. The anti-Nebraska of the 26th, or adjourned Saratoga, also nominated the whig ticket by a majority, the principal struggle being on Mr. Raymond for lieutenant governor, and the vote resulting ayes 127, nays 84. A portion of this convention withdrew, and united with the seceders from the free democratic, and nominated Mr. Clark, the whig candidate for governor, Bradford R. Wood for lieutenant governor, Charles A. Wheaton for canal commissioner, and Phillip Macomber for state prison inspector. The temperance convention nominated Mr. Clark for governor by acclamation, and Mr. Raymond by 163 to 112 for Bradford R. Wood.

This is about as intelligible an idea as we can give of these movements, consistent with the room our columns will allow.

SHARP SHOOTING.—A political canvass is always sure to bring out some hard hits between the belligerents, and where this is done in evident good nature they leave no wounds behind. Some good illustrations of this kind of warfare are found in the Boston Atlas. One or two of them we will give for the amusement of our readers. In the recent democratic state convention, Hon. J. M. Usher, a leading man in the party, undertook a review of the policy of the national administration which was distasteful to a portion of the delegates, and he was hissed for his plain speaking. This being commented on by some of the whig papers in the state, the Boston Post attributed the unpleasant sounds to a railroad engine in a depot near by. To this the Atlas replies:

"This is a fair specimen of the distinguishedness of the Post. The officeholders has one of their own party, because he will not swallow down their absurdities; and then to save themselves from disgrace they charge it upon an innocent locomotive. A gentleman who was present, assures us that the hisses came not from the locomotive of the railroad, but from the locomotive of the custom house, unless he was mistaken. The difference, however, is not great, as both are machines, and hiss whenever the steam is let on."

Here is another, good as the first:

"Merit is finding its just reward in New York. While two whig editors, Raymond and Bourne, have been nominated to high and responsible offices, a loco-foco editor, Nelson, has been arrested for robbing the mails."

The democratic convention for the 3d congressional district met at Waupun day before yesterday. Mr. Macy, the present representative is a candidate for renomination. In a day or two, we shall probably hear with what success he has again tried his chance with his old party friends. The "democracy" of the district are by no means united in their views of a candidate or the principles he shall represent. Some are for a decided anti-Nebraska expression of opinion; others would like the mum policy, while occasionally one is to be found who wants to take the bull by the horns and go it straight-out for Pierce and Nebraska. Among these latter is the editor of the Green Bay Advocate. The Advocate says:

"We want to nominate a man who is an open, unqualified supporter of the Nebraska measure, upon its merits. We would like to see one nominated who was from the start such a supporter of it—but that is not of so much consequence; though in common honesty to its early advocates, a nominee should be selected from them. We want to see the convention, before a ballot is had, take decided ground, through unmistakable resolutions, upon the subject, so that the candidates, before their names are used, may see what sort of a flag they have to carry and may have no excuse for evading it. With this sort of a convention, this sort of a platform, this sort of a candidate, we can go into the fight honorably and may be victorious.—Anything less, in convention, or platform, or nominee, the Advocate for one will repudiate as cowardly, disgraceful, and unworthy of the democracy of the third congressional district."

We certainly hope the Advocate has been gratified in the selection of a candidate. We want to see such an issue fairly presented as the editor seeks to offer. A victory or defeat then will mean something. Still, we think the chances for the sham "democracy" would be better in a skulking than an open fight. Somewhat, the patronage of the national administration has a remarkable efficacy in opening the eyes to the merits of this famous Nebraska bill, but all the democrats in the northern district have not been as fortunate as the Advocate, and may not see as clearly.

JANESVILLE TRADE.—The Sentinel gives the following statement of the trade of Janesville and Madison over the Milwaukee and Mississippi railroad. We have frequently heard asserted among our citizens that these figures disclose, but some of our Milwaukee friends seem to be just opening their eyes to the importance and amount of the Janesville business, while the existence of a near competitor for it seems to have been wholly forgotten, or only remembered when arbitrary exactions have driven our people to the commencement of negotiations with the Chicago road. It is better to come to reason late than never:

The following figures represent the business of 4 months. It should be stated that during the month of August, the Madison business suffered some drawback from the sinking of the track:

Months Janesville to Madison, according to J. June.....	$4,012 82	$4,665 17
July.....	3,188 81	4,209 71
August.....	3,117 32	2,804 86
September.....	3,866 07	4,676 80

Total.....	$13,884 52	$16,255 14
Total Janesville branch.....	$3,139 48
Months Madison to Milwaukee & Mad. June.....	$3,450 59	$6,035 45
July.....	608 47	4,781 77
August.....	627 28	3,835 54
September.....	6,652 80	6,985 62

Total.....	$11,333 64	$21,586 30
Total Madison business, 12,920 09.

From the above table it will be seen that the aggregate amount of freight from Janesville to Milwaukee exceeds the aggregate amount from Madison by $7,550 39; that the aggregate amount received at Madison for freight sent from Milwaukee exceeds that sent to Janesville by $5,331 24; and that the aggregate amount received for freight to and from Janesville exceeds that to and from Madison by $2,219 64.

The number of tons of merchandise and the number of bushels of grain to and from Janesville are greater than those amounts by at least one-half, owing to the fact that the price to and from Madison exceeds that to and from Janesville by more than one-half. For instance, wheat from Janesville Milwaukee is 9c per bushel; from Madison 4c. First class merchandise to Madison 1c. Second class 25c. per 100 lbs. First class merchandise to Janesville, 19c. per 100 lbs. Second class 16c.

The Sentinel gives a gross receipts on the road for September $60,233.24, and for the eight months preceding, $214,395.19—making a total in nine months of $274,628.43.

School Reform—No. 1.

MR. EDITOR:—My attention has lately been called by my friend, D. R. Spooner, Esq., to an article of his in the Gazette, of the 20th of May, on the subject of family education in connection with the subject of school reform, as agitated in Massachusetts, by an association headed by Governor Briggs and Rev. Warren Burton. The latter gentleman having published a series of questions to parents and teachers in the paper mentioned above, and the writer of this, with a number of others, having waited for some time for an answer from an able pen, I will endeavor to answer them to the best of my ability, from my experience as a teacher and superintendent, hoping that some one better qualified may point out such errors as may occur, and thus mutually aid the good cause.

Respectfully yours,
S. J. ENO.

QUESTION 1st. How can parents, teachers, and scholars best co-operate to make school pleasant and useful?

A difference of opinion may exist as to the correct answer to this question. In my view it is this: let parents always speak of the school as favorably as they can. Let them often visit the school, and know for themselves the true state of affairs; then govern their children properly at home, provide them with the right kind of books, and see to it that they are punctual at school, and let them by no means interfere with the government of the teacher. Let the teacher always show firmness and self-respect, with kindness and sincerity, and labor to make the studies easy of comprehension and to convince his charge of the importance of the right improvement of time. Let scholars strive to cultivate a friendly feeling for the teacher and for each other, and let them know that the more pleasant it is made for their parents and teacher, the more so it will be for themselves, and to a great extent the work is done.

QUESTION 2nd. To what extent are the morals of children formed at home?

This depends much upon the form of character manifested by the parents. In the most of cases the influence at school counteracts home influences so much, as to produce effects the opposite of home, sometimes for evil and sometimes for good.

QUESTION 3d. How much should parents depend on school teachers to correct the bad dispositions and habits of their children?

This will depend altogether on the influence that the teacher can have over the child; and this in turn on what the parents are willing he should have. If parents will see to it that they have the right kind of a teacher, and keep him in the school a proper length of time, and always for him manifest proper respect, they may expect that considerable will be done for good. It is unfortunately true, that dangerous habits are formed by the bad influence of corrupt teachers.

QUESTION 4th. If a child is punished at school and complains of hard treatment, or of any injustice, what should the parent do?

Most certainly investigate the matter to the full extent of your ability. Ascertain from the teacher, and from other scholars, the true state of the case. Then if the teacher is really in the fault, proceed as in the case of any other offender, according to the directions given in the scriptures. On a proper acknowledgment, forgive and continue the child at school. If, on the other hand, he is contrary and perverse, discontinue all connection with the school. If the child is found to blame, which is the case in most instances, administer gentle reproof, and if possible convince him of his error.

QUESTION 5th. What effect has the conversation at home, respecting the teacher, on his success and the welfare of the school?

This is answered under question first. We say further, no one can properly manage a school when the parents speak in a disrespectful manner of his efforts, at home. On the other hand, if the parents will uniformly speak well of his efforts, and if he is fit for the place, he cannot fail to teach a good school.

Merchandise for Janesville arrived in Milwaukee on the 3d inst, for Broad & Co., S. Holdridge, J. McCauley, J. R. Beale, L. T. Fulton, M. C. Smith & Co., R. J. Richardson, 18 tons, C. D. Crosby & Co., Jackson, Parker & Co., L. Merrill & Son, J. A. Wood & Co., Strong & Bacon.

FOR KANSAS.—A party of from 150 to 175 men, from Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and northern New York, arrived in this city yesterday afternoon by the Michigan Central Railroad, and "put up" at the Sherman House. The company were composed principally of mechanics, representing nearly every trade. A few lawyers and doctors were included, for "seasoning." The party left at 9 o'clock last evening on the Chicago and Mississippi railroad for St. Louis, from whence they will take steamers up the Missouri river to their new homes. May success and liberty keep them company.—Chicago Tribune, 30th ult.

THE DESIGNS OF OUR GOVERNMENT ON SAN DOMINGO.—The Rev. Mr. Judd, an American missionary at Port-au-Prince, writes a letter to the Detroit Christian Herald, exposing the true character of the proposal to officially recognize the government of San Domingo, notwithstanding our refusal to recognize that of Hayti. He says there are not fifty whites in all Dominica besides the Catholic priests. The object of the plan is to introduce a slaveholding colony from the United States, which will then be protected by the United States government from the Haytians, and it being once established there, to annex the western part, if not the whole island, as a slave state.—Albany Journal.

A HARD WINTER COMING.—We regret to state that the most indubitable signs of a hard winter are apparent and prevalent. Some of our oldest widowers have perfected the preliminary arrangements for entering anew the matrimonial relation. This class of our population feel the future "in their bones," and connecting their premonitions with the high price of coal, have taken steps accordingly.—Springfield Republican.

THE MOUNTAIN HERO AND HIS ASSOCIATES.

We have been allowed to see the proof-sheets of a work with this title, to be issued about the first of October, by one of our large publishing houses. It is a very thrilling and exciting narrative of scenes and transactions which occurred on our northern frontier, previous to and during the struggle for our national independence. It recounts the active part taken by a distinguished hero of that struggle, who, with his associates, achieved brilliant victories over British arms, and includes much valuable historical matter never before published in this country, which should be perused by every American patriot. It gives the early history of the old hero of Ticonderoga, his bold incursion into Canada, his capture, imprisonment and transportation to England in irons, with his treatment by the British, as narrated by himself, together with facts and anecdotes which render it most spirited and romantic historical work. It will be found highly entertaining and interesting to every lover of New England's early history.—The noble achievements of the heroes of that day, their self-sacrifice and devotion to the great cause of human rights then understood, cannot be considered without profit even by those who have made the science of government a study, and who are laboring to inaugurate what they believe will be a better and more advanced social state than that established by our fathers. Something more than high culture, eminent learning and profound philosophy—required to meet the difficulties which always beset revolutions of this character. Something of that indomitable perseverance and unflinching courage which marks the bold and hardy mountaineers of New England in days of '76, will be called into requisition. Let their example be well studied.

This work is in a large 12mo form of over 400 pages, and we understand the publishers design to issue it in a rich, substantial morocco muslin binding, with full gilt back, and other embellishments, and to sell it at the very low price of $1.25.

Messrs. Dayton & Wentworth, No. 86 Washington street, Boston, are the publishers, and we learn that they are wanting agents to circulate this new and taking work throughout the United States.—Boston Pathfinder.

The touching appeal of the Washington Union, for an agreement of the democrats of New York upon one ticket, is responded in this wise by the Evening Post:

These overtures for a fusion of the two divisions of the democratic party are like proposals of marriage from a prodigal who finds that he has spent all his estate, and now wants to recruit his finances by taking a wife who is reported to have a little money in the funds. It is a courtship in which the suitor has no advantage to offer. A triumphant party might not expect to solicit in vain the return of a band of schismatics; but here is a party which has been signally beaten in all the recent state elections, and has before it the prospect of equally signal defeats in nearly all the elections held in the states north of the Potomac. Those who ally themselves with it at the present moment have nothing to expect but plenty of dry blows and no pay.

THE ROGUES.—This is a party in Lower Canada which have but lately come before the public, under the above appellation, which appears to have been given them by their enemies, the ministerial French, by way of derision. They are all young men of education, and represented to be possessed of extraordinary powers of oratory. They keep by themselves, for the Jews have no dealings with the Samaritans, and can reckon, in their own right, seventeen votes in the assembly.

They are usually found on the side of order, progress, liberality and honesty, and hold to democracy with all its adjuncts, while they oppose the influence of the French priests in elections, and have occasionally argued against the compulsory support of the clergy by the people in the rural parishes. They seem to have erred materially in advocating annexation with the United States. In most respects, they correspond with the clear gits of Upper Canada, and as a party are not to be despised.—St. Catharines Post.

HEALTHFULNESS OF FRUIT.—The editor of the American Medical Monthly, in a timely article on a greatly misunderstood subject, says that partaking immoderately, even of the ripest and best fruit, is as injurious as drinking to excess, opium-eating, or surfeiting of any kind; and that eating unripe fruit, even when prepared by the most skillfully conducted culinary operations, and enticingly presented in the gariture of paste and frosting, is unsafe; eating fruit at improper hours, too ripe as well as unripe—is highly pernicious.

QUEBEC, Sept. 26.
Secretary Marcy has replied by telegraph to the Canadian government that the Reciprocity Treaty cannot take effect as regards Canada, until legislation takes place upon it in England, and all the colonies interested.

THE BOY AND THE BRICK.—A boy hearing his father say, "It was a poor rule that wouldn't work both ways," said, "if father applies this rule in his work, I will test it in my play."

So, setting up a row of bricks three or four inches apart, he tipped over the first, which, striking the second, caused it to fall on the third, and so on, through the whole course, until all the bricks were prostrate.

"Well," said the boy, "each brick knocked down his neighbor which stood next to him; I only tipped one. Now I will raise one and see if he will raise his neighbor. I will see if raising one will raise all the rest." He looked in vain to see them rise.

"Here father," said the boy, "is a poor rule; 't will not work both ways. The knock each other down, but will not help each other up."

My son, said the father, "bricks and mankind are alike, made of clay, active in knocking each other down, but not disposed to help each other up. When men fall, they love company; but when they rise they love to stand alone, like yonder brick, and see others prostrate below them."

STRANGER THAN FICTION.—About 42 years ago a young man belonging to Salem enlisted in the army and marched to the frontiers, leaving there a wife, and a child about a year old. No tidings being heard from him he was given up as dead; and 24 years after his disappearance, his supposed widow married again. On Monday last, the soldier returned from the wars alive and well, having, it is said, been residing in Canada West for many years. His daughter, whom he left an infant, is now married and the mother of a family. His wife and her husband, and his sisters, are all living; and how he can explain his absence, and how the respective rights of this "strange, eventful history" will be adjusted, remains to be determined.

THE PROFITS OF CHEATING.—A statement of the profits of Hamburg gambling banks shows them to average 40 per cent on the capital subscribed in shares. This, as justly observed by a Baden journal, is the severest commentary that can be given upon the ruinous nature of these splendid hell—forty per cent profit after paying all expenses.

A TROY TRIUMPH.—At the circuit court, now in session in Troy, a long and important case had been concluded in which eminent counsel had been engaged and masterly efforts in the way of eloquence and argument were displayed. The judge, too, charged the jury learnedly and at length, they were dismissed to consult upon a verdict. Eleven retired, but the twelfth remained immovable in his seat. One of the officers urged him, but received no indication of vitality; others whispered him to follow, but met with no answer or movement. The scene became ludicrous, and finally Judge Wright addressed him:

Judge Wright—You are one of the jury are you not, sir?

Juryman—No?

Judge—You are a jurymen in the cause on trial for three days are you not?

Juryman—Why the sheriff said I must come here; I didn't want to; wanted Abe to come; I wanted to stay to him and pick up the chips, but sheriff said that wouldn't do, and Abe said he would stay him and du the work, and I could cum. So I cum.

The matter was by this very intelligible interchange made more mysterious than ever, and remained so until a gentleman present explained that the man was an idiot, and had been supped in the place of one bearing the same name! Counsel consented that the eleven should act as a full jury, and the idiot was discharged.—Albany Express, Sept. 21st.

CHOLERA.—During the ten weeks ending on the 9th in which cholera has been known to exist in London the deaths have been respectively, 1, 26, 133, 339, 644, 729, 847, 1287, 2050, making a total of over 6,000 deaths. It was believed the disease had reached its climax, and would begin to subside.

We note the offer of one thousand pounds reward for the discovery of a new material from which paper can be manufactured. Some inflated person has suggested the bark of trees, owing, no doubt, to its association with leaves; while another jocular discoverer names hemp, as likely to produce a best noospaper.

The Kenosha telegraph reports the death by cholera, of Mr. F. Spafford, of Racine, a hardware merchant and prominent citizen of the place. He had just returned from New York city.

The Minnesota Pioneer notices Dr. Hoyt's nomination for congress in this district, and adds that "By reason of the form of which he is running, the result will be waited with more than common interest. It will be a test of western Wisconsin upon the Nebraska question."

We hope that anti-Nebraska democrats will fully understand what kind of a claim can be made for their votes if cast on an endorsement of the Nebraska bill?

The Prairie du Chien Patriot, hitherto neutral, supports the republican candidates for congress and the legislature. It says:

"The time has come, it seems to us, when every man should be enough of a politician to do all in his power to stem the tide of corruption that is rolling over our country. We sympathize with the republican movement because we think it is a great deal better adapted to the wants of the country than any thing that can be done under the banners of either of the old parties."

Of Boston, Mass., Chartered in 1843,
Capital and accumulation, $650,000.

THIS Company is one of the oldest, and among the most prudently and successfully conducted in the country. The primary object in conducting its business has been to provide perfect security under all conceivable circumstances, for the payment of its losses under its policies, and to return to the insured the surplus at stated periods, and strict economy is observed.

Every insured person is a member of the company and shares in the profits of the business, and is subject to no liability or assessments beyond his premium. The directors are required to be peculiarly interested in the company, and they give it their personal attention; and bonds of sufficient security are given by its officers for the faithful performance of their duties.

Highly Important to Farmers.
THE ONLY EXCLUSIVE FARMERS' INSURANCE COMPANY IN THE WEST.
LOCATED AT MADISON, WISCONSIN.

THIS Company continues to take risks upon 1. Farm Property only, consisting of buildings of all kinds, (including the farmer's household furniture, grain in barns, live stock, &c., from one to five years, at lower rates than most other responsible companies.

All losses promptly paid at the office as soon as proof is made thereon.

We believe it to be for the interest of the farmers to insure by themselves, their property being less hazardous than any other, consequently they will have no losses unless their own care of the same fails, and all will be on an equal footing.

Experience has shown that two-thirds, if not three-fourths of all the fires that occur are upon stores, taverns, mills, shops and small places. In this case, the loss is considered the best location for business in the village. The lot is two rods front by about seven rods deep.

Farmers, look to your own interest, and insure in a Farmers' Company.

We have been doing business a little over three years, and we have not been obliged to assess our premium notes, and for the last fourteen months we have not had a single dollar loss, though doing a large and prosperous business, which we believe to be without a parallel in the history of insurance.

The best of references given as to the responsibility of the company.

The primary object in conducting its business has been to provide perfect security under all conceivable circumstances, for the payment of its losses under its policies, and to return to the insured the surplus at stated periods, and strict economy is observed.

Every insured person is a member of the company and shares in the profits of the business, and is subject to no liability or assessments beyond his premium.

The directors are required to be peculiarly interested in the company, and their personal attention is given to the management of the business, and to the security of the funds, and to the prompt payment of the claims.

Highly Important to Farmers.
THE ONLY EXCLUSIVE FARMERS' INSURANCE COMPANY IN THE WEST.

THE MADISON MUTUAL,
LOCATED AT MADISON, WISCONSIN.

THIS Company continues to take risks upon Farm Property only, consisting of buildings of all kinds, (belonging to farmers,) household furniture, grain in barns, live stock, &c., from one to five years, at lower rates than most other responsible companies.

All losses promptly paid at the office as soon as proof is made thereon.

We believe it to be for the interest of the farmers to insure by themselves, their property being less hazardous than any other, consequently you will have no losses upon your own of the same class, and all will be on an equal footing.

Experience has shown that two-thirds, if not three-fourths of all the fires that occur are upon stores, taverns, mills, shops and such like property. In this company all such property is rejected positively, by LEWITT REXFORD.

Farmers look to your own interest, and insure in a Farmers' Company.

We have been doing business a little over three years, and we have not been obliged to increase our premium rates, and for the last fourteen months we have not had a single dollar loss, though doing a large and prosperous business, which we believe to be without a parallel in the history of insurance.

The best of references given as to the responsibility of the company.

the insured the surplus at stated periods, and ari-cious and abundant.

Every insured person is a member of the company and shares in the profits of the business, and is subject to no liability or assessments beyond his premium.
The directors are required to give their personal attention to the company, and they give it their personal attention; and bonds of sufficient security are given by its officers for the faithful performance of their duties.
Insurance may be effected for the benefit of the wife, which is secured to her by her husband, and the ranch of a husband's creditors; and, creditors may insure the Agent for the Northwest.

Highly Important to Farmers.
THE ONLY EXCLUSIVE FARMERS' INSURANCE COMPANY IN THE WEST.

THE MADISON MUTUAL,
LOCATED AT MADISON, WISCONSIN.

THIS Company continues to take risks upon Farm Property only, consisting of buildings of all kinds, stock, crops, and household furniture, grain in barns, live stock, &c., and all other property of every kind, at rates more liberal than any other company in the West.

All losses promptly paid at the office as soon as proof is made.

We believe it to be for the interest of the farmers to insure by themselves, their property being less hazardous than any other, consequently you will have no losses other than your own of the same class, and all will be on an equal footing.

Experience has shown that two-thirds of all fire-losses are from the fires that occur on farms, taverns, mills, shops and such like property. In this company all such property is rejected, positively, by LET-TING THEM ALONE.

Farmers, look to your own interest, and insure in a Farmers' Company.

We have been doing business a little over three years,

Politics in New York.

Parties in New York are in a present state of confusion, whether there is any other "fusion" or not. Within a month past no less than nine state conventions have been held. The order in which they were were as follows:

Democratic hard shell convention,	July 12
Saratoga anti-Nebraska convention,	Aug. 16
Democratic soft shell convention,	Sept. 8
Syracuse whig convention,	Sept. 20
Free Democratic convention,	Sept. 25
Anti-Nebraska Auburn convention,	Sept. 25
Independent Auburn convention,	Sept. 25
Seceders from Anti-Nebraska convention,	Sept. 26
Temperance convention,	Sept. 27

With the proceedings of the two democratic and the whig conventions, our readers are familiar, and with the others they may well they will spend half a day in reading the New York Tribune. The results only we shall attempt to give.

The free democratic of the 25th divided as the policy of nominating the Syracuse whig ticket, a majority deciding to do so, and the dissenters seceding. The anti-Nebraska of the 20th, or adjourned Saratoga, also nominated the whig ticket by a majority, the principal struggle being on Mr. Raymond for lieutenant governor, and the vote resulting ayes 127, nays 81. A portion of this convention withdrew, and united with the seceders from the free democratic, and nominated Mr. Clark, the whig candidate for governor, Bradford R. Wood for lieutenant governor, Charles A. Wheaton for canal commissioner, and Phillip Macomber for state prison inspector. The temperance convention nominated Mr. Clark for governor by acclamation, and Mr. Raymond by 163 to 112 for Bradford R. Wood.

This is about as intelligible an idea as we can give of these movements, consistent with the room our columns will allow.

SHARP SHOOTING.—A political canvass is always sure to bring out some hard hits between the belligerents, and where this is done in evident good nature they leave no wounds behind. Some good illustrations of this kind of warfare are found in the Boston Atlas. "One or two of them we will give for the amusement of our readers. In the recent democratic state convention, Mon. J. M. Usher, a leading man in the party, undertook a review of the policy of the national administration which was distasteful to a portion of the delegates, and he was hissed for his plain speaking. This being commented on by some of the whig papers in the state, the Boston-Post attributed the unpleasant sounds to a railroad engine in a depot near by. To this the Atlas replies:

"This is a fair specimen of the disingenuousness of the Post. The officeholders hiss one of their own party, because he will not swallow down their absurdities; and then to save themselves from disgrace they charge it upon an innocent locomotive. A gentleman who was present, assures us that the hisses came not from the loco-motive of the railroad, but from the loco-focos of the custom house, unless he was mistaken. The difference, however, is not great; as both are machines, and hiss whenever the steam is let on."

Here is another, good as the first:

"Merit is finding its just reward in New York. While two whig editors, Raymond and Bourne, have been nominated to high and responsible offices, a loco-foco editor, Nelson, has been arrested for robbing the mails."

The democratic convention for the 3d congressional district met at Waupun day before yesterday. Mr. Macy, the present representative is a candidate for renomination. In a day or two, we shall probably hear with what success he has again tried his chance with his old party friends. The "democracy" of the district are by no means united in their views of a candidate or the principles he shall represent. Some are for a decided anti-Nebraska expression of opinion; others would like the mum policy, while occasionally one is to be found who wants to take the bull by the horns and go it straight out for Pierce and Nebraska. Among these latter is the editor of the Green Bay Advocate.

We want to nominate a man who is an open, unqualified supporter of the Nebraska measure, upon his merits. We would like to see one nominated who was from the start such a supporter of it—but that is not so much consequence; though in common honesty to his early advocates, a nominee should be selected from them. We want to see the convention, before a ballot is laid, take decided ground, through unmistakable resolutions; upon the subject, so that the candidates, before their names are used, may see what sort of a flag they have to carry and may have no excuse for evading it. With this sort of a convention, this sort of a platform, this sort of a candidate, we can go into the fight honorably and may be victorious. Anything less, in convention, or platform, or nominee, the Advocate for one will repudiate as cowardly, disgraceful, and unworthy of the democracy of the third congressional district.

We certainly hope the Advocate has been gratified in the selection of a candidate. We want to see such an issue fairly presented as the editor seeks to offer. A victory or defeat then will mean something. Still, we think the chances for the sham "democracy" would be better in a skulking than an open fight. Somehow, the patronage of the national administration has a remarkable efficacy in opening the eyes to the merits of this famous Nebraska bill, but all the democrats in the northern district have not been as fortunate as the Advocate, and may not see as clearly.

JANESVILLE TRADE.—The Sentinel gives the following statement of the trade of Janesville and Madison over the Milwaukee and Mississippi railroad. We have frequently heard asserted among our citizens that these figures disclose, but some of our Milwaukee friends seem to be just opening their eyes to the importance and amount of the Janesville business, while the existence of a near competitor for it seems to have been wholly forgotten, or only remembered when arbitrary calculations have driven our people to the commencement of negotiations with the Chicago road. It is better to come to reason late than never:

The following figures represent the business of 4 months. It should be stated that during the month of August, the Madison business suffered some drawback from the sinking of the track:

From the above table it will be seen that the aggregate amount of freight from Janesville to Milwaukee exceeds the aggregate amount from Madison by $7,550 88; that the aggregate amount received at Madison for freight sent from Milwaukee exceeds that sent to Janesville by $5,331 24; and that the aggregate amount received for freight to and from Janesville exceeds that to and from Madison by $2,319 64.

The number of tons of merchandise and the number of bushels of grain to and from Janesville are greater than those amounts by at least one-half, owing to the fact that the price to and from Madison exceeds that to and from Janesville by more than one-half. For instance, wheat from Janesville to Milwaukee is 9c per bushel, from Madison 4c. First class merchandise to Madison 15c. Second class 25c. per 100 lbs. First class merchandise to Janesville, 10c. per 100 lbs. Second class 10c.

School Reform—No. 1.

Mr. Editor:—My attention has lately been called by my friend, D. R. Spooner, Esq., to an article of his in the Gazette, of the 20th of May, on the subject of family education in connection with the subject of school reform, as agitated in Massachusetts, by an association headed by Governor Briggs and Rev. Warren Burton. The latter gentleman having published a series of questions to parents and teachers in the paper mentioned above, and the writer of this, with a number of others, having waited for some time for an answer from an able pen, I will endeavor to answer them to the best of my ability, from my experience as a teacher and superintendent, hoping that some one better qualified may point out such errors as may occur, and thus mutually aid the good cause.

Respectfully, yours,
J. S. ENO.

QUESTION 1st. How can parents, teachers, and scholars best co-operate to make school pleasant and useful?

A difference of opinion may exist as to the correct answer to this question. In my view it is this: let parents always speak of the school as favorably as they can. Let them often visit the school, and know for themselves the true state of affairs; then govern their children properly at home, provide them with the right kind of books, and see to it that they are punctual at school, and let them by no means interfere with the government of the teacher. Let the teacher always show firmness and self-respect, with kindness and sincerity, and labor to make the studies easy of comprehension and to convince his charge of the importance of the right improvement of time. Let scholars strive to cultivate a friendly feeling for the teacher and for each other, and let them know that the more pleasant it is made for their parents and teacher, the more so it will be for themselves, and to a great extent the work is done.

QUESTION 2nd. To what extent are the morals of children formed at home?

This depends much upon the form of character manifested by the parents. In the most of cases the influence at school counteracts home influences so much, as to produce effects the opposite of home, sometimes for evil and sometimes for good.

QUESTION 3rd. How much should parents depend on school teachers to correct the bad dispositions and habits of their children?

This will depend altogether on the influence that the teacher can have over the child; and this in turn on what the parents are willing he should have. If parents will see to it that they have the right kind of a teacher, and keep him in the school a proper length of time, and always for him manifest proper respect, they may expect that considerable will be done for good. It is unfortunately true, that dangerous habits are formed by the bad influence of corrupt teachers.

QUESTION 4th. If a child is punished at school and complains of hard treatment, or of any injustice, what should the parent do?

Most certainly investigate the matter to the full extent of your ability. Ascertain from the teacher, and from other scholars, the true state of the case. Then if the teacher is really in the fault, proceed as in the case of any other offender, according to the directions given in the scriptures. On a proper acknowledgment, forgive and continue the child at school. If, on the other hand, he is contrary and perverse, discontinue all connection with the school. If the child is found to blame, which is the case in most instances, administer gentle reproof, and if possible convince him of his error.

QUESTION 5th. What effect has this conversation at home, respecting the teacher, on his success and the welfare of the school?

This is answered under question first. We say further, no one can properly manage a school when the parents speak in a disrespectful manner of his efforts, at home. On the other hand, if the parents will uniformly speak well of his efforts, and if he is fit for the place, he cannot fail to teach a good school.

FOR KANSAS.—A party of from 150 to 175 men, from Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and northern New York, arrived in this city yesterday afternoon by the Michigan Central Railroad, and "put up" at the Sherman House. The company were composed principally of mechanics, representing nearly every trade. A few lawyers and doctors were included, for "seasoning." The party left at 9 o'clock last evening on the Chicago and Mississippi railroad for St. Louis, from whence they will take steamers up the Missouri river to their new homes. May success and liberty keep them company.—Chicago Tribune, 30th ult.

THE DESIGNS OF OUR GOVERNMENT ON SAN DOMINGO.—The Rev. Mr. Judd, an American missionary at Port-au-Prince, writes a letter to the Detroit Christian Herald, exposing the true character of the proposal to officially recognize our refusal to recognize that of Hayti. He says there are not fifty whites in all Dominica besides the Catholic priests. The object of the plan is to introduce a slaveholding colony from the United States, which will then be protected by the United States government from the Haytians, and it being once established there, to annex the western part, if not the whole island, as a slave state.—Albany Journal.

A HARD WINTER COMING.—We regret to state that the most indubitable signs of a hard winter are apparent and prevalent. Some of our oldest widowers have perfected the preliminary arrangements for entering anew the matrimonial relation. This class of our population feel the future "in their bones," and connecting their premonitions with the high price of coal, have taken steps accordingly.—Springfield Republican.

THE MOUNTAIN HERO AND HIS ASSOCIATES.

We have been allowed to see the proof-sheets of a work with this title, to be issued about the first of October, by one of our large publishing houses. It is a very thrilling and exciting narrative of sieges and transactions which occurred on our northern frontier, previous to and during the struggle for our national independence. It recounts the active part taken by a distinguished hero of that struggle, who, with his associates, achieved brilliant victories over British arms, and includes much valuable historical matter never before published in this country, which should be perused by every American patriot. It gives the early history of the old hero of Ticonderoga, his bold incursion into Canada, his capture, imprisonment and transportation to England in irons, with his treatment by the British, as narrated by himself, together with facts and anecdotes which render it a most spirited and romantic historical work. It will be found highly entertaining and interesting to every lover of New England's early history. The noble achievements of the heroes of that day, their self-sacrifice and devotion to the great cause of human rights as then understood, cannot be considered without profit even by those who have made the sieges of government a study, and who are laboring to inaugurate what they believe will be a better and more advanced social state than that established by our fathers. Something more than high culture, eminent learning, and profound philosophy, is required to meet the difficulties which always beset revolutions of this character. Something of that indomitable perseverance and unflinching courage which marks the bold and hardy mountaineers of New England in days of '76, will be called into requisition. Let their example be well studied.

This work is in a large 12mo form of over 400 pages, and we understand the publishers design to issue it in a rich, substantial morocco muslin binding, with full gilt back, and other embellishments, and to sell it at the very low price of $1.25.

Messrs. Dayton & Wentworth, No. 86 Washington street, Boston, are the publishers, and we learn that they are wanting agents to circulate this new and taking work throughout the United States.—Boston Pathfinder.

The touching appeal of the Washington Union, for an agreement of the democrats of New York upon one ticket, is responded in to this wise by the Evening Post:

These overtures for a fusion of the two divisions of the democratic party are like proposals of marriage from a prodigal who finds that he has spent all his estate, and now wants to recruit his finances by taking a wife who is reported to have a little money in the funds. It is a courtship in which the suitor has no advantage to offer. A triumphant party might not expect to solicit in vain the return of a band of schismatics; but here is a party which has been signally beaten in all the recent state elections, and has before it the prospect of equally signal defeats in nearly all the elections held in the states north of the Potomac. Those who ally themselves with it at the present moment have nothing to expect but a plenty of dry blows and no pay.

THE ROGUES.—This is a party in Lower Canada which have but lately come before the public, under the above appellation, which appears to have been given them by their enemies, the ministerial French, by way of derision. They are all young men of education, and represented to be possessed of extraordinary powers of oratory. They keep by themselves, for the Jews have no dealings with the Samaritans, and can reckon, in their own right, seventeen votes in the assembly.

They are usually found on the side of order, progress, liberty and honesty, and hold to democracy with all its adjuncts, while they oppose the influence of the French priests in elections, and have occasionally argued against the compulsory support of the clergy by the people in the rural parishes. They seem to have derived materially in advocating annexation with the United States. In most respects, they correspond with the clear gits of Upper Canada, and as a party are not to be despised.—St. Catharines Post.

HEALTHFULNESS OF FRUIT.—The editor of the American Medical Monthly, in a timely article on a greatly misunderstood subject, says that partaking immoderately, even of the ripest and best fruit, is as injurious as drinking to excess, opium-eating, or sufficing of any kind; and that eating unripe fruit, even when prepared by the most skillfully conducted culinary operations, and enticingly presented in the garbure of paste and frosting, is unsafe; as eating fruit at improper hours, too ripe as well as unripe—is highly pernicious.

QUEBEC, Sept. 26. Secretary Marcy has replied by telegraph to the Canadian government that the Reciprocity Treaty cannot take effect as regards Canada, until legislation takes place upon it in England, and all the colonies interested.

THE BOY AND THE BRICK.—A boy hearing his father say, "It was a poor rule that wouldn't work both ways," said, "If father applies this to his work, I will test it in my play."

So, setting up a row of bricks three or four inches apart, he tipped over the first, which, striking the second, caused it to fall on the third, and so on, through the whole course, until all the bricks were prostrate.

"Well," said the boy, "each brick has knocked down his neighbor which stood next to him; I only tipped one. Now I will raise one and see if he will raise his neighbor. I will see if raising one will raise all the rest." He looked in vain to see them rise.

"Here, father," said the boy, "is a poor rule; it won't work both ways. They knock each other down, but will not help each other up."

"My son," said the father, "bricks and mankind are alike, made of clay, active in knocking each other down, but not disposed to help each other up. When men fall, they love company; but when they rise they love to stand alone, like yonder brick, and see others prostrate below them."

STRANGER THAN FICTION.—About 42 years ago a young man belonging to Salem enlisted in the army and marched to the frontiers, leaving there a wife, and a child about a year old. No tidings being heard from him he was given up as dead; and 24 years after his disappearance, his supposed widow, married again. On Monday last, the soldier returned from the wars alive and well, having, it is said, been residing in Canada West for many years. His daughter, whom he left an infant, is now married and the mother of a family. His wife and her husband, and his sisters, are all living; and how he can explain his absence, and how the respective rights of this "strange, eventful history" will be adjusted, remains to be determined.

THE PROFITS OF CHEATING.—A statement of the profits of Hamburg gambling banks shows them to average 40 per cent. on the capital subscribed in shares. This, as justly observed by a Baden journal, is the severest commentary that can be given upon the ruinous nature of these splendid halls—forty per cent profit after paying all expenses.

A TROY JUROR.

At the circuit court, now in session in Troy, a long and important case had been concluded in which eminent counsel had been engaged and masterly efforts in the way of eloquence and argument were displayed. The judge, too, charged the jury learnedly and at length, they were dismissed to consult upon a verdict. Eleven retired, but the twelfth remained immovable in his seat. One of the officers urged him, but received no indication of vitality; others whispered him to follow, but met with no answer or movement. The scene became ludicrous, and finally Judge Wright addressed him:

Judge Wright:—You are one of the jury are you not, sir?

Juryman:—No?

Judge:—You are a jurymen in the cause on trial for three days past, are you not?

Juryman:—Why the sheriff said I must come here; I didn't want to; I wanted to be at home; I wanted to stay to him and pick up the chips, but sheriff said that wouldn't do, and also said he would stay him and do the work, and I could come. So I came.

The matter was by this very intelligible interchange made more mysterious than ever, and remained so until a gentleman present explained that the man was an idiot, and had been summoned in the place of one bearing the same name! Counsel consented that the eleven should act as a full jury, and the idiot was discharged.—Albany Express, Sept. 21st.

CHOLERA.—During the ten weeks ending on the 9th in which cholera has been known to exist in London the deaths have been respectively, 1, 26, 133, 330, 644, 729, 847, 1287, 2050, making a total of over 6,000 deaths. It was believed the disease had reached its climax, and would now begin to subside.

We note the offer of one thousand pounds reward for the discovery of a new material from which paper can be manufactured. Some infatuated person has suggested the bark of trees, owing, no doubt, to its association with leaves; while another jocular discoverer names hemp, as likely to produce a best newspaper.

The Kenosha telegraph reports the death by cholera, of Mr. F. Spafford, of Racine, a hardware merchant and prominent citizen of the place. He had just returned from New York city.

The Minnesota Pioneer voices Dr. Hoyt's nomination for congress in this district, and adds that "By reason of the position of which he is running, the result will be hailed with more common interest. It will be a test of western Wisconsin upon the Nebraska question."

We hope that anti-Nebraska democrats will fully understand what kind of a claim may be made for their votes if cast for Dr. Hoyt. They prepared to be counted in on an endorsement of the Nebraska bill?

The Prairie du Chien Patriot, hitherto neutral, supports the republican candidates for congress and the legislature. It says:

"The time has come, it seems to us, when every man should be enough of a politician to do all in his power to stem the tide of corruption that is rolling over our country. We sympathize with the republican movement because we think it is a great deal better adapted to the wants of the country than any thing that can be done under the banners of either of the old parties."
